Based Plans for Wiping Out Dozen Persons On Stars

With One Murder to His Credit, Famed Astrologer Planned Wholesale Killings—Nephew Also Held—Says Uncle Hypnotized Him.

(By The Associated Press.)
MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 13.—Plans for the deliberate slaying of prominent residents of Coos county with their families were laid by Arthur Covell, 47, a cripple, famed as an astrologer, according to his reported confession to authorities here. With his 16-year-old nephew, Alton Covell, he is held in the county jail after indictment on murder charge in connection with the death of Mrs. Fred Covell, September 2, last.

The nephew, it was said by the authorities, has confessed that he killed his stepmother while under the influence of his crippled uncle. The confession, it is declared, tells how the youth, hypnotized by the bed ridden man, crept up behind his stepmother on the morning of September 2 while she was at work in her kitchen and clamping an ammonia-soaked cloth over her face, smothered her to death.

The astrologer, according to his purported admissions and to the confession of the nephew, based his schemes for the killing of Mrs. Covell and for wiping out at least a dozen persons of Coos county upon the stars.

OTHER CRIMES PLANNED
(By The Associated Press.)
SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13.—L. S. May, criminologist, returning from Marshfield, Ore., where he investigated the death of Mrs. Fred Covell, said that Arthur Covell, under indictment for the alleged murder, had planned several other crimes, according to evidence uncovered and statements attributed to Covell.

May said he was studying horoscopes drawn by Covell and would submit to the Oregon authorities evidence that Covell planned to murder E. J. Pressy, wealthy Oregon dairyman and his wife, and three children and burn the bodies by firing the residence.

"The motive was to be robbery," declared May. "Arthur Covell had made Pressy's horoscope and was to direct his 16-year-old nephew to commit the murders when the family was under unfavorable planetary influence."

Evidence has also been uncovered in other coded horoscopes which were to direct the nephew to rob and then kill two merchants in Randol, Ore.

"The plans of Arthur Covell were so minutely detailed that they even called for the removal of windows and the burning of the home of the victims was burned. The stolen articles were to be used in a home which the Covells intended to build. Even wills were to be written in advance turning the money over to the astrologer."

"One will was in the hands of the authorities when I left Marshfield and it was so cleverly drawn up that it can hardly be detected as counterfeit."

"Mrs. Covell apparently had inkling of previous crimes and of those being planned. She had threatened exposure and the uncle and nephew had decided to get her out of the way. That is the deduction I got after talking."

"The crippled uncle owns a typewriter whose type can be changed at will. The type bar on the machine contains a large number of novel keys and lettering. With this machine the uncle devised a code system for his nephew and wrote out his 'orders' in code."

Oklahoma Governor Removes From Office Executive Counsellor and State Bank Commissioner—Ousted Officials Seek Impeachment.

(By The Associated Press.)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 13.—Facing the crisis of his political career, Governor Walton has cast aside two of his foremost lieutenants in the administration of Oklahoma affairs.

With a legislative impeachment court already investigating his official conduct, the governor last night ordered the removal from office of Aldrich Blake, the executive counsellor, and Dr. E. T. Bynum, state bank commissioner, both of whom since the days of the primary campaign have been his chief advisers and constant attendants.

The ousted officials went immediately before the House Committee inquiring into impeachment charges against the governor, and, while the nature of their testimony was not made public, their appearance before the body was accepted as indication that their break with the governor was absolute.

Dr. Bynum has administered his office unsatisfactorily, the governor charged and is out of harmony with

DUESSELDORF SCENE OF ANARCHY Early Folly Again Revived, N. J. Mayor Ends His Own Life

Man Who Erred in Youth, Paid Penalty, Reformed, Prospered and Became Mayor, Suicides When Blackmail Is Demanded, Which He Was Unable to Pay—Had Paid Out $25,000 in Past Year to Keep Life Secret.

(By The Associated Press.)
IRVINGTON, N. J., Oct. 13.—A tragic story of a man who erred in his youth, paid the penalty and then set out to regain the respect he had lost, only to succeed and have his early folly once more brought to life, was unfolded yesterday when the prosecutor began investigation in the motives that prompted the suicide on September 26 of Mayor Edward R. Folsom, of Irvington.

Mayor Folsom's life reminded those who heard its history of Jean Valjean.

It was in Hammondsport, N. Y., that the story had its beginning. It was the age-old tale of wealth and poverty and love. Folsom's family was poor. The girl he loved was the daughter of the wealthiest man in the town and her father refused to accept the lowly youth as his son-in-law. The boy was desperate, and he forged the wealthy man's name to several checks and later was caught red handed robbing a bank.

His sentence was 10 years at hard labor in Auburn prison but the late Theodore Roosevelt, then governor, pardoned him after three years had been served. In respect to the Hammondsport citizens, headed by the girl's father.

Folsom and the girl were married then but they decided to move away and start life anew. They came to Irvington where Folsom established a business, won his way into many friendships and prospered. He was elected mayor and his work in civic and church affairs was praised by all who knew him.

Then came the dark cloud that cast a shadow over the man who had erred in his youth. Some one (his son says) made a confession to him that he knew his past, confronted him with the facts and demanded blackmail. At his death it was believed the mayor had little left of the fortune he had built up through hard work. It was said he had paid $25,000 in the past 12 months alone to keep the secret.

CARNEGIE COMMISSION DENIES SHAW A MEDAL

Robert Lester Shaw of Schoolfield, who last July 13th, saved the lives of Mrs. C. A. Gillespie and her four-year-old daughter, Iris, at Stokesland Crossing, dragging them from a stalled automobile as a train bore down on them, did not do anything extraordinary, according to F. M. Wilmet, of Pittsburgh, manager of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. Consequently he will not be awarded a medal.

A letter was received here today in which was given the negative decision reached in the Lester Shaw case.

The message said:

"The Carnegie Hero Fund applies to acts in which conclusive evidence may be obtained showing that the person performing the act voluntarily risked his own life in saving, or attempting to save, the life of a fellow being."

"While Mr. Shaw's act is commendable, the facts at hand, it does not appear that it was attended by any extraordinary risk of his own life and for this reason his case, I regret to say, does not come within the scope of the fund."

The letter was signed by Mr. Wilmet.

News of the failure by the Commission to recognize what struck credit as an amazingly plucky act was received today with a mixture of astonishment and regret, especially by the eyewitnesses to the near disaster and who at the time came forward and declared that an effort should be made to win a citation from the Commission as it appeared to them to be the highest form of personal courage.

The Rec undertook to place the collected facts before the distinguished body and the quest began for the names and addresses of the witnesses as well as their personal testimony. These persons were later communicated with direct from the Commission. For several weeks the matter has been before the Commission where presumably it was gone into thoroughly.

Briefly, the facts in the Shaw case were these: Shaw, a mill worker, was standing at the Stokesland Crossing and saw Mrs. Gillespie and her child

TOWN TOPICS

Four days of the Danville Fair—four days which brought out record breaking crowds—are over, and not a single serious accident, traffic or otherwise. The police department and the traffic department through Officer F. G. Towell, express appreciation of the manner in which the people, motorists and pedestrians—co-operated with them in dealing with the situation. With twelve and fourteen thousand people on the Fair grounds at a time on two nights, no disorder arose. Over fifty thousand persons attended the event and taking in consideration this fact, police officials were pleased with the orderliness of the crowds. As to the traffic, of the thousands of machines which passed by the Fair entrance and parked from the park to the intersection of South and West Main streets, no serious accident occurred. The police consider it an excellent record. Traffic officers were organized and handled the situation in fine style.

Otis Bradley, clerk of the court today, received a letter from Alfred R. L. Dohne of Baltimore, asking for information regarding Walton Randolph Smith who is held in jail at Baltimore with a girl companion indicted for larceny. Mr. Dohne in his letter says he has become interested in the case and wants to help the unfortunate couple. He seeks information relative to Smith's kinfolk also other information bearing on his life in Danville. Mr. Bradley spent some time today in trying to locate the man. No reference to such a man is made in the city directory and the police department has no information bearing on such a man. Mr. Dohne in his letter asks if Smith ever lived in Kentucky and if he believed in Kentucky. Mr. Dohne has been in Danville and Danville, Ky. has been occasioned and that Smith possibly is not from this city.

At a meeting of the city home commission with the public welfare committee of the city council held yesterday afternoon the plans prepared for the proposed new city home were submitted also all steps thus far taken since the commission was appointed. Not all of the members of the council committee were present and the ratification and endorsement was not given although all of the members present went on record unofficially as endorsing the plans submitted and of all action thus far taken by the commission. A full meeting of the committee is to be arranged and Monday when it is expected that formal approval will be recorded. It is understood that the plans submitted will provide a city home costing probably a little less than $20,000 the sum set aside for the purpose. Once the council committee has acted, bids will be asked for and the awarding of the contract and the erection of the building will be left in the hands of the superintendent of public utilities and the city engineer.

S. J. Battin, presiding elder of the Danville district, will preach at Mount Vernon church Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. J. Callaway Robertson, will occupy the pulpit at the morning services.

All of the patients at the General Hospital suffering from fractured limbs are on the mend though they cannot be called definitely out of danger. Miller Andrews who was hurt several days ago on Paxton street, is gaining ground every day, so is Harvey Philpott, Western Union messenger boy who fell heavily from his bicycle on the street. Another traffic victim has made such progress that she soon will be able to go home.

A republic truck pulling one of the large wagons hauling paraphernalia from the fair, was backing about town, heavily loaded wagon trailer, without brakes, caused the machine's wheels to skid, bringing the vehicle together with a crash. Fortunately no one was hurt but the truck was badly damaged. The accident occurred on Lexington street. When the brakes were applied to the machine, the momentum of the brakeless wagon pushed it sideways and a crash resulted. After hauling all night, most of the shows were loaded on the trains before noon.

Mrs. W. O. Williams' condition was reported today as being still further improved, her attending physician stating that no symptoms of internal injury have thus far been shown. Monday it is expected that she will have an X-ray examination can be made to determine whether or not a bullet is embedded in her body, also a bullet in her left hand. One bullet pierced the knuckle of her first finger when she threw up her hand to protect herself.

Mrs. L. N. Chappelle and Mrs. M. W. Robertson who were injured in an automobile accident near Blanche, N. C., about four weeks ago and who have been in the hospital since the accident are returning to their homes today. They sustained their injuries while in the car in which they were riding turned over.

Alonzo Pinchback, a twelve-year-old colored boy was run down early this afternoon on Union street by a motor truck belonging to the Quality Bakery driven by George Nunnally. The boy's leg is understood to have been broken.

GASOLINE IS SEVEN CENTS IN TEXAS

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 13.—Gasoline was retailing in many filling stations here yesterday at seven cents a gallon. The price was believed to be the lowest in the United States.

The Atlas Petroleum Company which operates a refinery here announced that because prices had been manipulated without regard to cost, it would maintain the price at seven cents until the market became stabilized, although no profit was made.

The Gulf Company reduced its price from 13 to 11 cents Wednesday and was followed by other major companies Thursday.

Unemployment Situation in Germany Becomes More Serious—Plunderers Begin Systematic Campaign.

(By The Associated Press.)
DUESSELDORF, Oct. 13.—Duesseldorf was thrown into a state approximating anarchy today by unemployed workers who during the early morning hours began a campaign of systematic plundering.

The pillaging started in the suburb of Oberkirk during the night and spread to various parts of the city when the plunderers found themselves virtually unopposed.

WEDDING LICENSE ISSUED.
A wedding license was this morning issued by the clerk of the court to Lacy Rice, of Mebane, N. C., and Mabel Warren, of Burlington, N. C.

DANVILLE'S BEST FAIR IS BUT A MEMORY TODAY

Between 11:30 o'clock last night and dawn today the fourteenth annual Danville Fair disappeared as though by magic and this morning there was not a vestige of the booths, the numerous forms of entertainments which have held sway there since last Tuesday night. The only sign of activity this morning was the number of people calling at the various exhibition halls for the exhibition. Most of these had been taken away this afternoon and by tonight all that will remain will be the memory of the annual event unmarred by bad weather and one of the most successful fairs undertaken of recent years and one which was splendidly patronized by the Danville people and those of the surrounding community.

The actual figures on the attendance are to be arrived at this afternoon by C. L. Booth, who had charge of the gate receipts. This morning he roughly estimated the total attendance during the entire run of the Fair at 40,000. It has been established, however, that the Fair was better attended than any other in the history of the Fair Association. It is understood that the Fair cost the Association approximately $18,000.

The date for the final accounting of the Fair to the directors has not been set but this will not be before many days. It is expected that it will be shown that the Fair has made money and it is also expected that any surplus will be turned back into the treasury to provide an even better Fair next year. This has been the policy of President A. L. Starling who has clung tenaciously to the old maxim "bigger and better than ever," which has proved about as he expected. To what extent the Fair grounds will be enlarged is not known. It is thought that by systematic grading of the grounds that portion near the cattle stalls can be brought into greater use. It is certain, however, that the midway will be made broader and longer to take care of the large crowds which will concentrate and circulate through it. The need of a larger grand stand also has been clearly emphasized by the fact that each night it was filled up a long time before the free attractions began. Secretary H. B. Watkins and other Fair officials expressed gratification today over the attendance and general success of the Fair. They all regretted the misfortune which befell Miss Beatrice Jung, one of the free attraction performers, who fell on the opening day and injured her ankle. She has left the hospital and the injury is considered a minor one. Fair officials saw to it that she was given the best treatment and showed personal concern over her recovery. Officials also had a word of praise for the good order prevailing at the Fair grounds and the manner in which the police department handled the crowds. There was not a disagreeable incident during the entire Fair and nothing which required police intervention. Incidentally traffic was better handled than ever before and the street cars disgorging their human freight did so without any risk to the passengers, owing to the careful system of manipulating motor-borne traffic.

This morning one of the heavy circus wagons was being hauled down Linn street attached to a motor truck. The truck broke and the heavy-laden wagon, not away from the Danville Knitting mills, scraping the fenders of a parked car and finally demolishing a farm wagon. No person injury was reported.

METHODIST CONFERENCE WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY

Tomorrow is the last Sunday of the Virginia Methodist Conference year, the annual gathering of ministers and lay delegates more than six hundred altogether to take place at First Street Methodist church in Richmond next Wednesday, October 15th, at nine o'clock. This week has been a busy one in the preparation of the final reports on the state of the 82 churches which are contained in the Danville District. All of the reports of the seven Methodist churches in Danville have been completed and have been filed with the presiding elder, Rev. Steadman Jackson Batten who will present them on the conference floor.

This year, five ministers in the Danville District are running out their four year term and it is generally expected that Bishop Warren Candler who will preside at the conference, is opposed to any minister serving longer than four years unless some essential reason for his being returned for a longer period can be shown. Ministers whose terms may be said to be expiring and who face the likelihood of being removed to other charges include Rev. O. B. New-ton, Cabell Street, Danville; Rev. J. T. Allen, Clary church, Danville; Rev. J. C. Curran, Robertson, Mount Vernon, Clary church, Danville; Rev. J. W. Welch, Franklin, and Rev. S. B. Williams, Pennsylvania circuit. Notwithstanding the realization that the bishop is a "four year man" in the Danville District, the conference, hopes are entertained that some of the ministers will be returned. It is definitely certain that the congregations of three Danville churches will ask for the return of their ministers. In the case of Rev. J. Callaway Robertson not only will the congregation ask that he be returned but the Danville Red Cross, the Community Welfare Association and the City Home Commission will join in a petition to Bishop Candler in which it will be pointed out that the minister is the executive head of these organizations and that all of them have large constructive work to do.

Mrs. Gunther Gets Custody of Child

Mrs. Hattie Gunther was awarded custody of her infant child Maude, by Judge Price Withers in corporation court yesterday following an all day trial of the issue. Gunther appealed a decision rendered by Judge Kerr Morehead Harris in the Domestic Relations court under which Mrs. Gunther was considered a proper person to raise the child. Gunther is the paternal grandfather. A swift succession of witnesses were called to the stand some of whom attacked the moral character of the other while others defended Mrs. Gunther.

The court's final determination was that the child remain in the custody of the mother, Gunther, and action should be taken to this effect.

During the course of the hearing Judge Withers made it plain that the question of who should have the child was not in issue but rather the question as to whether Mrs. Gunther was a fit person to have the child. He confined the evidence to that point after making the ruling. Gunther also was informed that even though the mother were to be named as being reared by Mrs. Gunther, the defense contention was that that fact could not properly be held against her at the present time following observation of her by competent authorities and neighbors, also that her child therefore, should not be denied her.

Jones was beaten to death with a piece of pipe, the youths whose motives were said to be robbery, securing about twelve dollars.

BACK AGED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keephouse and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

PERFECT BODY IN SIX MONTHS PROMISES ATHLETICS LEADER

KAREN WESTERDALL ILLUSTRATING EXERCISE FOR GRACE AND EXPRESSION.

This is the last of a series of articles by Nils Bukh, Denmark's "Walter Camp," in which he tells American women how they may develop a lithe and healthy body through his system of training.

BY NILS BUKH
WITH CAREFUL, constant application to the exercises that I have outlined, you can develop in six months as near a perfect body as is possible for the average person to have.

You can use it then for sport, or as the foundation for perfection in any particular athletic field.

Men generally turn to athletics, while girls go in more for those things which express grace and beauty.

For the men I especially recommend running, which develops the legs and wind, throwing, which de-

4TH QUARTERLY MEET IS HELD

The Fourth Quarterly Conference for the year was held at Calvary Methodist church last Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor's report on the General State of the church indicated a year of progress. At no other time during the present pastorate has the church been in a better all round condition.

The conference went on record as avowing the return of the Presiding Elder, the Rev. S. J. Battin. His work has been highly commended and it is believed that he has just begun a great forward work on the District.

The conference also endorsed in very warm and appreciative terms the work and ministry of the pastor, the Rev. Joseph T. Allen. He has served his church for four years and it is the desire of the entire congregation to have him returned if possible. A resolution to that effect was unanimously adopted.

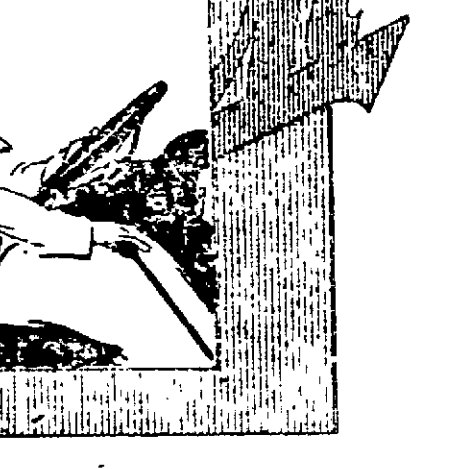

The church has greatly prospered during the present pastorate. The congregations have about doubled and around two hundred and fifty have been added to the church roll. The vast majority of these came through the pastor's personal efforts. He conducted all of his evangelistic meetings except one.

If the presiding bishop carries out his policy and adheres to the four-year time limit, Mr. Allen will be transferred to another charge. His successor will be fortunate in that he will come into a well organized church free of debt with a flourishing Sunday school and a very loyal people. Mr. Allen will leave for the Annual Conference Tuesday afternoon.

The conference will hold its sessions this year in Broad street church, Richmond, Va.

EXPLAIN DELAY IN 3RD PAYMENT

REIDSVILLE, Oct. 12.—At their warehouse here yesterday afternoon several hundred co-operative members were given a satisfactory reason for delay in making the third payment on their tobacco pooled last year.

The speaker, L. E. Rodgers, of the field department, was introduced by Director R. S. Montgomery, and gave them an hour he gave a review of the workings of the Tobacco Growers' Association and presented figures that were gratifying to the listeners.

Mr. Rodgers is from Charlotte county, Va., the banner co-operative farmer of the three states, less than 20 growers of that county being outside the association.

Touching on the much-flouted gab of high salaries, Mr. Rodgers stated that the total co-operative association salary budget last year was $155,000, or 40 cents per $100. He compared this with a loose leaf concern in North Carolina which expended $1,695,000 for handling its comparative small number of pounds of tobacco.

Mr. Rodgers said that in this old belt the co-ops have on hand 13,768,202 pounds of the last year's crop, which has an appraised value of $3,514,070.64 and a selling price of $3,233,357.

The speaker ridiculed the average claimed on the auction warehouse floors this season. He read reports from fourteen of the leading auction markets which operated in the last week. The general average of the 14 markets being just a little over 14 cents a pound.

Mr. Rodgers told the growers they had a right to know just what their association is doing and he surely gave them a clear insight into the management of the business. It was a heart-to-heart talk and his message was well received.

ELKIN LEAF MARKET BOOMING WITH SALES

ELKIN, Oct. 12.—Both of the local tobacco warehouses are now in full swing, the co-operative market having opened for the season Tuesday. About 400 members of the co-operative association were present for the opening.

A short program was carried out. Mayor J. W. Ring, representing the town of Elkin and the Kiwanis club, opening the exercises with an address of welcome, which was followed by a brief speech by the manager, N. H. Lewis in which he congratulated the members upon the progress of the association and appealed to them to co-operate for the future success of the organization.

Both the Liberty and the co-operative warehouses are busy places every day, and the auction sales are proving highly satisfactory to the farmers. A full corps of buyers is now on the floor and the price so far has been excellent considering the quality, which has been very inferior. The crop, as a whole, in this section is very inferior in quality and high prices are not expected by the farmers of intelligence. The opening of the tobacco market is always a booster for business and the merchants are having to step lively to take care of their customers.

Activity in building operations continues unabated. The homes of W. E. Jones and H. V. Bullard on Church and West Main streets, respectively, have been completed, and the owners have recently moved into them.

C. B. Franklin contractor is erecting a large business building on East Main, the first floor of which will comprise three separate stores, the second floor will be equipped for offices and it is probable that a third will be added for a town hall.

The numerous friends of Capt. G. T. Roth are pleased to know that his condition is steadily improving, following an illness of two weeks at his home on Terrace avenue.

MRS. WILLIAMS IS MUCH BETTER

The condition of Mrs. W. O. Williams who is at Edmunds Hospital, was reported last night as a good deal better. She was said to be more comfortable and more composed and that no unfavorable symptoms have been detected as result of the gunshot wound from which she is suffering. It has been definitely ascertained that the injury is not as serious as was first feared.

14 LEADERS KILLED

(By The Associated Press.)
TOKIO, Oct. 12.—The killing of 14 labor leaders and socialist by cavalry troops at the Kameido police station on September 3 and 4 was justifiable, according to official reports, of the gendarmerie and the metropolitan police.

The reports say the labor leaders and socialists defied martial law regulations and sang revolutionary songs. The reports say the troops were compelled to kill the men to restore order.

Dry Leaders Meet To Discuss Booze Situation In U. S.

Haynes in Opening Address Says Coolidge Administration Stands Behind Prohibition Enforcement—Dry From All Over the Country Attending.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Assurance that the Coolidge administration, like that of the late President Harding, stands squarely for prohibition enforcement, was given by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in an address to-day at the opening session of the "citizenship conference" on enforcement, called by the federal council of churches. Described as in effect a reforming of the ranks of dry leaders to combat the enemies of prohibition enforcement, the conference was attended by enforcement advocates from all parts of the country, including state officials and many prominent in church and civic life.

Adoption of a practical program for awakening "the moral force of the nation" to the need of law observance, was set forth as the purpose of the three day meeting.

"This administration is square effective enforcement," Commissioner Haynes declared in his address. "We all know how valiantly President Harding supported and sponsored it. No less well hearted is President Coolidge's position on law enforcement. Attorney General Daugherty's position is always well known. The report of the attorney general recently made to President Coolidge, covering the activities of the department of justice, shows that that department is in dead earnest in the prosecution of the violators of the prohibition law."

Commissioner Haynes called urgently upon friends of prohibition to awake to the "insidious propaganda" which, he charged, was being directed against the dry law.

M. E. Conference Open Wednesday

tive programmes for the coming year which could be carried out more successfully if he were returned. Whether this extraneous influence will have an effect on the bishop remains to be seen.

The conference to be held in Richmond, starting Wednesday is the 141st of the Virginia Conference. It will be the 19th time the conference had met in Richmond. The 18th annual conference was held in May, 1885, at Mason's, Brunswick county, when Bishop Asbury presided, the name of the clerk being unknown. In those days, the Virginia conference included the conference of Virginia, West Virginia, and the 32nd annual conference was held at Taylor's in Caswell county not far from Danville. Bishop Asbury presided then and Alexander McCain was clerk. The first session of the Virginia conference was in November, 1885, after the Civil War, this being the 53rd session. Bishop Early presided and Paul Whitehead was the clerk. There have been eight conferences in Danville at regular intervals since then—and they may come here again should a well defined movement to get away from the alternating habit between Norfolk and Richmond, succeed. Such a movement is known to exist because it is felt that Methodism in the state generally is helped by a rotation of the conference among the larger cities.

The conference now reports 290 pastoral charges with 810 organized churches and 145,775 members. It must be remembered that the Virginia conference does not include all the State of Virginia. Southwest Virginia embracing the territory equal to three districts goes in the Holston, and a good strip in the North, including the far-famed Valley, is claimed by the Baltimore conference. The churches in the conference last year raised a total of $2,483,890, and the churches are valued at $7,651,650, with 252 parsonages valued at $1,189,523.

During the history of the Virginia conference it has had ten secretaries, which is a remarkable record when it means these ten served an average of fourteen years. The first 20 years' history does not record the name of the secretary. John Early, later a bishop of note in the church, served in the office for the first two years. But Dr. Paul Whitehead, well-known to many of the older Methodists as one of our remarkable men, holds the record with forty-seven years of continuous service at the table of the secretary, and three years as assistant, giving him a half century of service. This breaks the record of Methodism in this respect. Dr. Bernard F. Lipscomb, the present efficient secretary, has held this post nine years. He is the father of Mrs. Frank Talbot of this city.

The conference has been presided over by thirty-eight bishops. Bishop Asbury holds the record with twenty-six continuous years, in which he had charge of the conference. Bishop Candler, the present presiding bishop, was presided twice before.

One change that has been noted in the conference of late is the increased number and activity of the laymen. For many years there were no laymen at all in the conference, all of them being preachers. After the introduction of lay representation for many years four laymen from each district were elected to sit in the conference. For the last few years this number has been doubled and now women as well as men are elected to the conference.

Early conferences of Methodism gave their sessions almost entirely to preaching and worship. Often great revivals came with the coming of conference. This has also changed, for the business of the church has grown to such bounds that almost the entire time of the conference must be given

Ford's Statement Is Filled With Reckless Assertions, Says Weeks

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Declaring Henry Ford's statement attacking the Southern Methodists as "filled with reckless assertions," Secretary Weeks in a formal reply published today, reviewed at length the administration's course in dealing with the Detroit manufacturers' offer for the project. Mr. Weeks issued his statement after twice discussing the matter with President Coolidge, the last occasion taking the prepared statement with him to the White House.

Weeks refused to comment on Mr. Ford's statement, was every indication of a keen resentment at the Detroit manufacturers' charges that political influences had operated to prevent his obtaining Muscle Shoals.

The fact that Mr. Ford declared his offer to be still open, Secretary Weeks said, would seem to "indicate that he does not regard Gorgas Plant as necessary to him in the carrying out of his plans to purchase and develop Muscle Shoals water power" for nitrate producing purposes.

The secretary, in the course of his statement, declared that he had "keenest interest in the development of air fixation of nitrates in assistance of the American farmer and in the adaptability of Muscle Shoals for this purpose."

In the necessary reference of Mr. Ford's offer to Congress, he said, he had never opposed his securing the use of the water power facilities there.

Negro Is Taken from Officers and Killed for Attack on Woman

Scene of Lynching Was Near Richmond—Police Had Just Arrested Man and Were on Way to Jail When About Ten Persons Seized Prisoner and Shot Him to Death.

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 13.—Horace Carter, 40 years old negro, of Wakefield, was taken from two officers near the King and Queen county courthouse last night and shot to death by a party of about ten persons according to word received here today. The negro was being taken to jail charged with attacking a white woman.

Carter had been arrested an hour before by Officers Richard Mann and Henry Jones. They started for King and Queen jail in an automobile but were intercepted about a half mile from the end of their journey, according to reports received here.

Discard Burglary Theory In Attack On Maas; Believe It Plot To Kill Him

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The police have discarded the theory of burglary in the attack Thursday evening on Mrs. Ida M. Leslie and the subsequent shooting of Milton M. Maas, wealthy New York chemist, at Mrs. Leslie's home at Sound Beach, Conn. In its stead, they have substituted a plot to kill Mr. Maas.

Persons in close touch with the investigation of the seizure of Mrs. Leslie on the lawn of her home by three young men and the wounding of Mr. Maas when he ran to her assistance was quoted as saying the authorities were convinced that New York gunmen were hired by a jealous rival to kill the chemist.

Seizure last night by the police of a package of letters from Mrs. Leslie's home, it was said, disclosed that a New York millionaire, previously known, was a rival for Mrs. Leslie's affections. The name of the man was withheld.

Mrs. Leslie still held to her first assertion that robbery was the motive for the attack.

Mr. Maas last night was pronounced to be out of danger.

Good Morning Judge!

Two liquor cases occupied most of the court's attention this morning. Earnest Mills drew a fine of $101 and costs and a jail term of six months on a charge of selling ardent spirits. An appeal was noted and Mills gave bond for his appearance before the corporation court in December. Mills is said to have a six months term at Chatham beginning the first of November. He is under bond to appear there to serve a term imposed at the last term of court. Should he begin that term, saving his bond there, he will forfeit the one here, unless remedial steps are taken in the meantime between commonwealth attorneys for both towns concerning the case.

Mills is alleged to have sold four drinks of whisky to two white youths recently. When he learned that the boys had been detained by the police, he immediately went to one of them, Kelsie Johnson, and offered him two dollars back. This was the gist of the evidence brought out this morning.

The other liquor charge was against Richard Smith colored, charged with his second violation. He was arrested last night by Special Officer Zerber, who saw him pouring out a drink of whisky into a glass. Smith was this morning convicted and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $101 and costs. An appeal was also noted in this case.

A number of disorderly conduct cases came up this morning. Fines of $5 and costs were imposed on May

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

COMPARE

The Maximum of Proved VS. Many Extravagant Claims
Intrinsic Value of Superiority

So many announcements of new model cars contain extravagant claims for the same superiority that it is puzzling to the buyer to know which value is real and which is only a claim.

This year the issue has been confused by the introduction of mechanical changes, some of which have been rushed into production while still in the experimental stage—and then immediately given wide publicity.

Important considerations have been overlooked and great stress placed upon unimportant details.

But the man who intends to buy a motor car need not let this confusion or this glamour of publicity lead him to make a mistake or risk satisfaction in his purchase. The automobiles themselves are available for comparison.

See and be convinced. Riding is believing.

As an aid to intelligent buying we offer the following suggestions:

Place the 1924 model Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car at $995 alongside any car you may select as belonging in the same class. Every car looks well in the picture—most cars make a good impression in their own show windows. The Studebaker Light-Six looks a winner alongside the best-looking competitor you can find. And it's larger, more substantial, roomier, more comfortable looking—and is more comfortable.

Compare the top. Look inside and out. The Studebaker top is sturdy built. Has four stout cross bows. Top material is same as is so satisfactorily used in the Big-Six. Modes the fit, feel the quality. The car's canvas is one-piece with no seams—with a large rectangular window bound by an enameled molding.

Compare the body. Studebaker has a roomy, substantial, carefully made body—all steel even to its framework, which permits a finish in baked enamel. A depressed belt line runs around the body and through the hood and radiator, adding to its distinctive appearance.

Compare the one-piece, rain-proof windshield, with built-in cowl lamps, with the ordinary two-piece windshield with rubber strip that leaks in every rain and always obstructs the driver's vision. Notice the large cowl ventilator that is quickly operated by merely moving the regulator backward or forward.

Compare the Studebaker door trimmings and fittings with the door fittings of other cars. Notice that the door pocket flaps have weights to hold them in position. Man-sized door handles and latches, positive-action door locks that catch with a snap and stay closed. Heavy hinges properly located and proportioned. Highest grade trimmings material instead of painted cardboard. Fastening nails concealed.

Compare the Studebaker floorboards. These are neatly fitted and fastened to the floor boards of this 1924 Studebaker Light-Six with the rubber mats that cover the cheap, loosely-fitted floor boards in many other cars.

Compare the cheap robe rail (sometimes hump robe covered with imitation leather) with the Studebaker nickel-plated rail. Compare the forty-cent footrest with the comfortable, carpet-covered footrest, supported by polished aluminum brackets, in the Studebaker.

These comparisons are of features that can be seen. There are many more down under the surface that could be mentioned, such as the machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods of the Light-Six motor. This is largely responsible for the practical absence of vibration in the Studebaker Light-Six. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price.

If competition is so far inferior in its details, it is a certainty that the hidden parts which really determine the satisfaction of a car will be equally inferior.

The Studebaker chassis is far superior to any other motor car chassis in its price field as Studebaker upholstery is to other upholstery, as the Studebaker body is to any other motor car body in its price field.

Come in and see the Light-Six. Test its performance and comfort yourself. Again—Riding is believing.

You Can Have The Biggest Paying Business in your town—in 6 Months

Absolutely Sure—Safe—Immensely Profitable—Always Under Your Own Control

We are the largest manufacturers of Tires in the South and originators of The Paul System of Community Tire Factories.

We have a most unusual money-making proposition to offer some man or group of men in each city or town of 2000 population or over. Nothing like it has ever been offered before.

The opportunity is so amazing in its possibilities that no man of the necessary business and financial ability will care to let it pass. It offers just the chance for financial and working independence so eagerly sought by every ambitious man. It immediately makes you a leading manufacturer in your community.

It links you up with an enterprise of national scope and standing. It insures you a ready market for all the products of your factory right in your home community. It starts you in a business that is solid and sure—one that is always absolutely under your own control.

And above all, the profits are so generous that even with your factory operating at only one-tenth of its possible capacity, there is a yearly profit for you of almost $10,000. Beyond that, you are limited only by your own ability to build and sell our nationally advertised Clover Leaf Cord Tires. Operating to capacity, there is a possible profit of $75,000 per year. The demand is created—the quality is known—you can meet and beat all competition.

The Coming of this Small Plant Marked a New Step in the Tire Industry

Until recently, a tire factory costing less than $1,000,000 was almost unheard of. A man of moderate means could own at most only a few shares of stock.

But now all this is changed. A world-famous tire engineer has perfected The Paul Community Tire Plant. It can be installed completely in a factory space only 30x60 ft. Here it will turn out from 20 to 40 finished tires a day, and duplicate perfectly, at low cost, the finest product of the largest factory.

It is not necessary to erect a special building. In almost every town or city there is a vacant building suitable for the work, which can be rented very reasonably.

No Tire Building Experience Necessary—No Difficulty in Securing Materials at Low Prices

The Paul Rubber Co., largest tire makers in the South, have secured exclusive control of the patents and plan for operating these Community Tire Factories. Each plant will be carefully installed under the personal direction and by our own engineers.

A skilled tire builder will be supplied to operate the plant and instruct you in the work until such time as he is no longer needed. All raw materials will be supplied at low prices direct from our factory in sealed containers, thus giving you the benefit of the purchasing power of our national organization.

Each plant will be licensed to build and sell the famous Clover Leaf Cord Tires. Each will have exclusive protection in its territory. No plant will be allowed to infringe upon the rights and privileges of another.

No Other Tire Builder or Dealer Can Compete with You

Car owners will call to see how tires are built. Here on a small scale they will see a complete Tire Factory. They will recognize the quality of the tires you build by the Paul System. They will find it convenient and profitable to drive to your factory to get fresh new goods with the full life of the rubber in every tire.

They will see the big saving by buying their tires from you at wholesale prices. They will find it convenient to have adjustments made directly by the tire maker. No waiting—no writing—no delay.

Every good citizen will have a real pride in the success of this new local industry. They will prefer to buy Clover Leaf Tires factory-made, factory-sold, and factory-guaranteed by men they know.

Surprisingly Small Investment Required

The Paul Rubber Co. is cooperating in establishing these factories with the smallest possible investment. All plant equipment and materials which, if purchased separately by each individual plant would cost a large amount, are furnished complete for only $7,500 to $15,000, according to the capacity desired.

Where else can you find an investment so safe and so surely profitable? Remember your own plant is always under your own control—yet operated as a part of the nationally advertised Paul Community Tire System. We give you the benefit of our buying and selling power on every tire you build.

Victor-Gilchrist
The marriage of Miss Ellen Rives Victor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Victor, of Charlotte, N. C., to John William Stuart Gilchrist, which was solemnized in St. Martin's church, Charlotte, N. C., Thursday evening, October 11, is of interest to many people in Danville and the surrounding community where the bride's parents are well known and related to many prominent families.

H. M. Victor, father of the bride, was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Danville and her mother, formerly Miss Anne Green, was one of Danville's most highly esteemed young women. The wedding in Charlotte was a brilliant social event, attended by many prominent people.

The marriage ceremony was performed in St. Martin's Episcopal church by Rev. John Long Jackson and was followed by a reception given at the home of the bride's parents in the Plaza, Chatham estates.

Later Mr. Gilchrist and bride left for a northern trip. Their handsome new home on the Plaza is nearing completion and on their return from the north, Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist will establish their permanent residence there.

SAYS NAPPING MINDS MAKE US SUBNORMAL
(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Detailed photographic studies of the motions of human beings, made possible through the invention of an apparatus called the scale cage, have led to the conclusion that absent minded persons temporarily indulge in motions similar to the motion behavior of imbeciles, according to the Engineering Foundation of this city. The foundation says also that great waste results, in some manual occupations, from ill-directed motion.

Many persons occasionally are absent minded and, while their wits are wool gathering, the motions of their bodies, as recorded by photography, are strikingly similar to those of the weak-minded and subnormal.

Bricklayers of ordinary training have used the same methods probably for 7,000 years. The berry picker, the most ancient of craftsmen, has followed simple and natural methods for thousands of years. Studies of these workers give no indication that the best way to do work is a matter of instinct, or is developed through successive generations by natural processes.

By finding out the best way, as demonstrated by the most expert worker, the bricklayer can be trained to do more than three times as much work with the same effort. The amateur berry picker, most highly educated in everything except berry picking and motion study, may be so trained as to increase his output fifteen fold.

POLITICAL INTEREST IN PATRICK COUNTY IS KEEN

(Special to The Bee.)
STUART, Oct. 13.—Political excitement is high here in view of the large field of candidates for state and county offices who filed their applications before midnight on October 6. No fewer than fifty-two candidates have announced themselves and will know their fate after the November election.

W. L. Koger is the only candidate for the House of Delegates, F. P. Burton, W. Joyce and R. E. Woolwine are in the lists for commonwealth attorney and who has withdrawn. Deep disgust of political maneuvering may be traced between the lines.

"To the Voters of Patrick County: This is to give notice that I have withdrawn my name as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney."

—Mr. R. E. Woolwine sent me an unconditional proposition to the effect that he would not be any candidate if I would not. He filed his application with the Clerk with that condition in it, and I accepted it. I unconditionally accepted his proposition and I have honor enough about me to live up to it.

"Sometime in the night, on Saturday, October 6th, which was the last day on which names could be filed, he went to the clerk and withdrew his original application and filed another one, in which he merely reserved the right to withdraw if he saw fit. And he has not as yet withdrawn at all."

"I sincerely thank my friends who were so warmly supporting me in all parts of the county. But politics is a game that I cannot afford to play at, and I never expect to become a candidate for anything any more."

Respectfully,
"S. A. THOMPSON"

South Has Number Of Big Games On Its Program Today

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 13.—Thrill starting whistles thrilled many football followers on southern gridirons today while others watched with interest the result of sectional games in which southern eleven participated. The thump of shoe against pigskin on the kickoff found a number of strong southern teams clashing for sectional honors, while other southern teams faced strong teams in the north.

The University of Georgia eleven lined up against Yale at Newhaven for a game in which considerable interest has developed, while Vanderbilt renewed its struggle with Michigan at Ann Arbor. Vandy loomed as a strong contestant with what was said to be at least as good a team as the one that played the Wolverines to a scoreless tie last year. Syracuse and the University of Alabama, both having administered crushing defeats to opposing teams, last Saturday, were expected to stage a battle royal at Syracuse.

In the south, the game between Georgia Tech and the University of Florida held the center of the stage, with several other games running close in point of interest. The Golden Tornado, displaying little so far this year beside a crushing line attack, faced an alligator eleven which last Saturday stopped the Army machine scoreless during the first half of a contest considered a practice game for the Army which turned into a bitter struggle for supremacy.

In Tennessee, Georgetown met the University of Tennessee on the latter's gridiron, while in the Carolinas, North Carolina state faced the University of South Carolina at Raleigh.

Other games of interest scheduled were:
Centre vs. Clemson.
Rice Institute vs. University of Arkansas.
Sewanee vs. Texas A. and M.
University of Texas vs. Tulane.
Mississippi College vs. Birmingham Southern.
University of Mississippi vs. Southern Presbyterian.
Citadel vs. Davidson.

The police are searching for a man who occupied a room adjoining that of Miss Phillips. He was said by the police to have been seen leaving the rooming house early yesterday morning, carrying an army overcoat. It was also learned that a man answering the description of Collins had boarded a train for Montreal.

Almost as an inspiration, when I saw how terribly Mr. Cocoran felt at my father's illness, I told him that I had come to him to find out where I could obtain some money on my pearls.

"Do you want to borrow money my dear?" he asked. "If you do, of course I will lend it to you."

"No, I do not, dear Mr. Cocoran, but you know at the time of my marriage I was given a very wonderful string of pearls."

"I didn't know it, child."

"Well, of course, if I had were well I would ask him for the money, but honestly Mr. Cocoran I think it is foolish for a woman in as moderate circumstances as are those of Jack's and mine, to wear so much money about her neck."

With this I took my pearls out and held them up to him.

"They are very beautiful, my dear, but I wouldn't know whether they are real false," he said.

"That's just it. I could wear the false ones and be just as satisfied as I am with these. You see, Mr. Cocoran, the expense of my illness have been very great and Jack has just lost a large sum of money through a friend. I don't want to ask him for money because he needs every cent to make good his friend's defalcation."

"Consequently I thought that I could sell two or three of these jewels and still have plenty to wear while helping four game of the series Tony Kaufman was expected to appear in the box for the Cubs and Cuyegars was considered the likely selection for the Sox."

"But I would give you the money, Leslie," said Mr. Cocoran. "Why do you insist upon selling these pretty baubles?"

"I wouldn't feel right to borrow the money much rather sell them."

"Well, I will do it if you wish me to, although I think you are rather foolish. Did your father give you this string of pearls?"

"No."

"I thought he didn't. I didn't remember them among the wedding presents."

"I was wearing them at my wedding, perhaps you will remember."

"No dear, I was only looking at your own sweet face."

"I didn't think your mother would make you such an expensive present," he said musingly.

"She didn't," I answered, and then was very sorry I spoke as I saw the glance Mr. Cocoran gave me.

Then without thinking I told a great big lie. "Karl Whitney gave them to me," I said.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN DANCES WITH SERVANTS

(By The Associated Press.)

AREDEEN, Scotland, Oct. 13.—Queen Mary danced with six of her servants recently at the annual ball given by their majesties to the employees of the Royal Estate at Balmoral. The program, arranged by the Queen, did not contain a single fox-trot or one-step, and only two waltzes. The dances were Highland reels, eightone reels, the reel of Tulloch, the strathspeys, the Spanish gavotte and other dances of the pre-jazz era.

For the opening reel the Queen's partner was Arthur Grant, the veteran head-keeper at Balmoral. Her later partners were gillies on the royal estate.

The King and Prince Henry were there, but they did not dance. The Princess Royal, Princess Maud, Princess Alice and other royal ladies in the Queen's party followed the example of her majesty.

The Mayonnaise makes the Salad

To be sure of a delicious salad you must be sure to use a perfect mayonnaise! No matter how fresh your vegetables or fruits are, the salad will be a disappointment unless the mayonnaise is perfectly flavored, of even consistency and fresh.

Housekeepers all over the South who know this fact are now using the famous Mrs. Duke's Home-made Mayonnaise and saving themselves the trouble of making it. They can always be sure that Duke's Mayonnaise is fresh and perfectly flavored.

Duke's Home-made Mayonnaise is made just as you would make it in your own kitchen, even the same ingredients are used—pure oil, fresh fruit juice and eggs, and the best of condiments. Duke's is absolutely uncooked. It keeps its freshness and appetizing flavor indefinitely.

Duke's Home-made Relish and Russian Dressing are both made with this famous mayonnaise. Ask your grocer about Duke's products. You will find that he knows their superior quality and real home-made goodness.

Diamond Veteran Is Again In Limelight; Fourth Game Today

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—If often happens on the stage that an unknown actor, given a small part to play, does so well he makes the stars look like "supers."

Casey Stengel, of Missouri, a weather-beaten old veteran of the diamond, kicked and cuffed from bush to bush, was hoisted by the fates to the sight of John McGraw, baseball's "mastermind," given a job and a small part to play in the drama.

After a long run in a successful season, the Giants won glory and entered the "big time," the world's series. Casey had played his small part well and was kept on. On the first day, the first game of the world's series with the Giants, Casey won fame. He made a great hit, a home run that won the game. And Casey was talked about. His name appeared in the bright lights.

On the second day Casey's small part was played by another player. Those who went to see, shouted for Casey, but it was not Casey's day. Casey was back on the job yesterday and he made his great hit again. Another homer that won the game for the Giants. It was the only run of a contest between two great pitchers, Jones of Yankees, and Nehf of the Giants, and Nehf, thanks to Casey, won.

The series now stands two games for the Giants, one for the Yanks. Babe Ruth having won the second game for the American League team with his brace of home runs. But Ruth is a great star. His name has long been on the boards and his performance, while great, is dwarfed by that of Stengel, the unknown, the new star.

Until the time for Casey to take his place on the stage, the third game of the series had been a magnificent struggle between the pitchers. There was the marvelous control and clear floaters of Jones, the Yankee, and the fast breaking curves of Nehf, the Giants' pitcher.

Both had held the rival batters at bay, being aided at times by the smart, snappy work of the men behind them. Jones seemed to have had the edge until that seventh inning when the Missouri man went to bat. Casey, as usual, strolled to the plate harmlessly and docile, with a friendly grin on his sun-wrinkled countenance. There was no aggressiveness in the stance he took in the batter's box and the crowd, sensing nothing sensational, jabbered and waited for the easy put out they thought would come. Then the crack of the bat against the ball.

Out in rightfield Ruth, seeing the ball sail high, turned and ran to the far reaches of the grounds and stretched his arm over the bleacher rail, but the ball went farther than that, dropping high up in the crowd, while Casey trotted around, grinning his appreciation of the cheers of the 65,000.

Today is the fourth game, played in the home of the Nationals, the

REIDSVILLE HIGH VS. GREENSBORO

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 12.—

The stage is all set for one of the biggest games on the local grid schedule here tomorrow when the black and gold of Reidsville will stack up against the "Purple Whirlwind" of the Greensboro high school. All indication point to a battle royal, with the odds in favor of the visitors. However, the locals are determined to give them the fight of their lives, remembering that Danville came here

a couple of weeks ago with high expectations and was defeated, 7-6.

It is expected that Coach Richardson will start a different lineup from that which began the game against

High Point last Friday. Pettigrew,

Irvin and "Rip" Stallings have not yet fully recovered from injuries sustained in that game. Miller has been running the team, and will probably get the call to begin at quarter. Allen, Hutchinson, Neal and Brown will be the probabilities at halves, while Delaney will start at

Glidewell, L. Pritchett, Minor and Glass have been showing form for the flanks, and the selections will probably come from them; the line has plenty of good material, and came through the tussle last week in fair shape except for Stallings

Bailey, Mobley, Hastings and Butler

make good reserve material. Miller and G. Stallings became ineligible on

PARDON CASES ARE A BURDEN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Burden placed upon the president in considering applications for pardons was shown in an annual report of James A. Finch, pardon attorney, made public today by the Department of Justice. During the past fiscal year, the report said, the chief executive acted upon 839 pardon cases, an increase of more than 20 per cent over the previous year.
Prisoners applying for pardons apparently stand less than an even chance of winning executive clemency, the average of denials last year being 54 per cent.
